

The Container

Decide the experience. Map the path. Name the access point. Test it four ways.

SESSION ARC · 90 MINUTES

01 Opening Frame

5 to 10 min

Bridge review. Participants share the one move they made inside their lane and what it produced. What did the move reveal about the lane and the client?

02 Teaching

15 to 20 min

The Container framework. The four journey archetypes, the five touchpoints from discovery to yes, the access point decision, and the four alignment tests every container passes before it runs.

03 Silent Work

15 to 20 min

Work the worksheet independently. Archetype selected with reasoning, the five touchpoints mapped, the access point named specifically, and the four alignment tests run in writing.

04 Live Coaching

20 to 25 min

One or two participants map and commit to a container out loud with the coach. The friction surfaces here. A path that serves the practitioner instead of the client. A test that does not pass.

05 Commitment

5 to 10 min

Each participant reads their journey sequence and access point aloud. Complete your Post Session Commitment form today. Then download your Customer Journey Map and fill it in. One real move toward your container before Session 6.

SESSION FOCUS

Deciding, not building

You already know who you are, how you show up, who you serve, and which lane you are in. Session 5 asks the design question. What does the path look like for the right person to say yes?

YOUR OUTPUT TODAY

Your Customer Journey Map

Archetype chosen. Five stages mapped from discovery to yes. Access point named. All four alignment tests passed. Held on one page you keep and build from.
